G.A.R. Encampment.

What Was Accomplished at the Milwaukee Meeting.

ALGER ELECTED COMMANDER.

Boston Selected as the Place for holding the Next Encampment—Report of the Commander-in-Chief and Other Officers for the Past Year.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 29.—Between 700 and 800 delegates were present on the ground floor of the West Side Turner Hall Wednesday morning when the first session of the twenty-third National encampment was called to order by Commander-in-Chief Warner.

The usual formal ceremonies took but a little while, when the committee on credentials reported that all present were entitled to seats. Then the commander-in-chief presented a lengthy report reviewing the progress of the order during the past year and comparing it with previous administrations.

The lengthy introduction to Gen. Warner's report was devoted to an eloquent eulogy of the Grand Army and its purposes. The present membership of the order, he went on to say, aggregated 410,686, divided among 6,711 posts and forty-two departments. The greatest gain was in Missouri, 3,652. The departments of Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, New York, Wisconsin and Ohio also showed gains. The death roll has been unusually heavy, 4,636 veterans having passed away during the year. Since 1871 the order had expended $2,900,000 in charity, of which a quarter of a million had been distributed within a year.

The report urged the departments of the country to initiate the action of the New York department, in presenting American flags to the public schools on Washington's birthday. Action tending to draw the order closer to the Sons of Veterans, as well as to the order, Military Telegraphers was urged, and the pension question was dealt with at length. The commander-in-chief deplored the fact that the committee appointed at the Columbus encampment to press the pension ideas of the order upon the attention of congress, had been unable to make any progress. He reiterated the arguments in favor of the dependent pension bill; declared that a service pension must come and insisted that the bond holders of the country should reward the men who stood by it in its hour of peril. The report of Adj't Gen. Weigel was devoted to statistical information. Two new departments, those of Georgia and Alabama, had come into existence during the year.

The routine reports of the adjutant general, surgeon general, judge advocate general were next submitted, and a special committee of five was appointed to consider the recommendations contained in the various reports and report to the encampment.

A large number of resolutions, the majority relating to changes in the pension laws and others to ritual representation in the encampment, etc. were handed in by delegates from different encampments and referred without debate to appropriate committees.

Before the close of the morning session something of a sensation was created when Gen. McMahon, of New York, arose and offered a resolution which had been unanimously adopted by the delegates from that state. It declared that the Grand Army was composed of citizens who had served honorably in the cause of the country and had been honorably discharged from further service in the army and navy of the United States; that they were zealous for its glory and the good name of its surviving comrades, as well as mindful of the honor due to the memory of the dead, and that the encampment therefore protested against any constriction of existing laws which would place on pension rolls men dishonorably discharged from the service. The resolution was greeted with applause, but under the rules it went to the committee without debate.

When the delegates assembled after luncheon, a lengthy report from the committee on pensions was presented. It opened expressing regret that, owing to the short session of congress after the last encampment and the crowded condition of business, little in the line of practical results could be accomplished. After the congressional recess the committee met in Chicago and proceeded to the home of the president elect. The interview was a pleasant one. Gen. Harrison gave cordial assurances of his warm interest in the question of pensions, and expressed an earnest desire that generous pensions to the soldiers of the Union should be granted.

After the last encampment the committee prepared two bills, one a disability bill so broadened in its provisions to include an endorsement of pensions to all honorably discharged veterans, and another to give every honorably discharged veteran a monthly rate of one cent for each day's service. These bills were given in detail and the committee expressed its regret that it had been unable to secure favorable action upon them. Should, however, the encampment reaffirm its position, the same bills were ready for early presentation to both houses of congress immediately upon the opening of the session, and from interviews with the leading men of both houses the cordial and friendly attitude of the administration, and the liberal views of the secretary of the interior and the commissioner of pensions, the latter being appointed after eight years of faithful service on this committee, it was believed that before the conclusion of the next session of congress, liquidation would be had which would go far beyond the completion of the full measure of the National indebtedness to the men who defended her flag.

From this the report went on to give in detail the work that had been accomplished by the Grand Army pension committees in eight years. The clerical force in the pension office had been increased from 742 to 1,589, in the adjutant general's office to 167. There were 116 additions to the list of surgeons, and fifty-two in another department. These additions had necessitated an extra expenditure of $2,000,000 yearly. A law had been passed giving the commissioner of pensions power to appoint boards of examining surgeons throughout the country to expedite the work. Another appointing 250 additional special examiners in the field to examine cases in which questions arose. A third authorizing the employment of experts as to special diseases in cases demanding special attention, still another that the acceptance and master as a soldier should in all cases be accepted as prima facie evidence of his soundness at the time against existing disabilities.

Others increasing widows' pensions from $8 to 12 per month, increasing the rate for severe disability, had been passed. The disability bill that was vetoed, as well as the measures providing for pensions to all widows without reference to the cause of death of their husbands, for the benefit of survivors of rebel prisons; and for the re-enactment of the rebel law were also the fruits of the committee's work, while even this statement did not cover all that it had done.

The report concludes by recommending that the work be pushed with vigor for the year to come. It is signed by S. M. Merrill, John S. Kountze, J. F. H. Burst, R. W. Blane and Lucius Fairchild.

Nominations for the locality in which the next encampment should be held, were declared in order. Saratoga, Indianapolis, Washington and Boston were named. Several speeches were made in behalf of each place. Several hours were consumed. A test vote resulted: Indianapolis, 29; Saratoga, 31; Washington, 68. The count was made on Boston until 402 was reached, and then the advocates of the other cities threw up the sponge and the selection was made unanimous.

At last night's session of the encampment Gen. Russel A. Alger, of Michigan, was elected commander-in-chief for the ensuing year. Judge Veney, of Vermont, and Gen. Consigny, of Iowa, were placed in nomination, but both withdrew and Alger's election was made by acclamation. A. G. Weissert, of Wisconsin, was elected senior vice commander without opposition, and John F. Lovett, of New Jersey, was chosen junior vice commander by a vote of 182 to 127 for H. E. Tainter, of Connecticut. At 11:30 the encampment adjourned.

Gen. Sherman spent two hours at the soldiers' home yesterday, and in the afternoon went to the National park and reviewed the Chicago Zouaves, Battery L, of Chicago, the First Light battery and the Fourth battalion.

The United States veteran corps held its annual meeting and elected Governor Foraker president.

The reports presented at the annual convention of the National Association of the Naval Reserves showed a great increase of membership during the year.

A delegation of ex-members of the Confederate army arrived in the city yesterday to seek the support of the National encampment in the reunion of the Blue and the Gray, which takes place at Vicksburg next month.

The Women's Relief Corp.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 29.—Three hundred delegates from twenty-eight states presented their credentials at the opening session of the annual convention of the Woman's Relief Corps, at Immanuel church. Mrs. Rush Craig called the convention to order, and Miss Clara Barton and Mrs. John A. Logan were admitted as distinguished guests. After the president had welcomed the delegates the convention went into executive session.

FOUR RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.

All of Them Occur Within the City Limits of Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Four railroad accidents occurred within the city limits last night. A misplaced switch at the Swan street crossing caused a collision on the West Shore road with a Rochester and Pittsburg train. The Rochester and Pittsburg engine ran into West Shore sleepers, throwing them from the track. Robert Weed, a boy, was thrown from the car platform and had his wrist fractured. A lady passenger and the negro porter were badly bruised.

A Western New York and Pennsylvania train ran off the track about the same time near North Division street.

Engine 56 on the Nickel-plate road was run out of the Chicago street round house about 7 o'clock, and near the Hamburg street crossing the engineer saw train No. 24 coming in at fast speed.

He reversed his engine and he and the fireman jumped. The train hit the switch engine with terrific force, knocking it back into the round house.

Engine No. 140 was just coming out and both engines were smashed. The engineer and fireman of No. 140 were badly injured.

Two Ladies Killed.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 29.—Two ladies in a buggy collided with the outgoing passenger train of the Chicago and Northern railway at the Viert street crossing at 6:35 last night, through carelessness, and were killed. They were later identified as Mrs. E. P. Bennett and her sister, Miss Dobson. Both are residents of Wauwatosa, a village west of this city. They are sisters of Hiram Bond, a well known Milwaukee merchant.

Trying the Suspects.

Argument Produced for Separate Trials.

FOUR HOURS SESSION OF COURT.

No Decisions Reached, but It is Likely That Coughlin and P. O. Sullivan Will Be Tried Together, and That Burke and Woodruff Will Obtain Separate Trials.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the hearing of the motions of the defendants in the Cronin case for separate trials was begun in branch No. 3 of the criminal court. It required two bailiffs at each door to prevent the room from becoming overcrowded. The prisoners were brought in underground shortly before 10 o'clock, and all except P. O. Sullivan appeared self-possessed. The ice man was moody and silent.

Proceedings began by Attorney

Forrest amassing to the court that he would like to file another affidavit in the motion of Coughlin for a separate trial. It had reference to the evidence of Capt. Schaeck before the coroner's jury, about the statement Woodruff made to him. The affidavit was filed without reading.

Judge Wing then began an argument in Coughlin's behalf. He argued that his client should be tried alone, and went on to show that evidence might be introduced against Sullivan,

Burke or others would be prejudiced to Coughlin if the cases were tried together, and that this evidence would be inadmissible if Coughlin would be tried alone.

Continuing, the judge said there had not been a case in 200 years where a man had been compelled to go to trial with another who had confessed to a share in the crime charged against him.

Judge Longenecker then offered an affidavit in denial of the statement made by McConnell in his motion, when Judge

McConnell informed him it was unnecessary.

Judge also reminded the attorneys for defense that the defendants were under indictment for conspiracy to murder as well as for murder, and that Judge Wing's argument would apply only in the former case. Mr. Forrest then explained that it had been a real trial that he was looking for the conspiratorial part of the case.

Mr. Donahoe then took the floor in behalf of P. O. Sullivan, and read a number of decisions bearing on his motion, and said Judge Wing's argument was applicable in the case of his client.

Senator Kennedy followed for Burke.

He declared that the minds of the public were poisoned against the defendant so that it would be impossible for his client to get a fair trial with them.

Mr. Browne then, on Woodruff's behalf, argued substantially the same reasons for a separate trial for his client.

Judge Longenecker then took the floor and declared he would not ask for a better argument to show the existence of a conspiracy than that of Judge

Wing. "If we show a conspiracy to murder Dr. Cronin when Burke rented the Carl's cottage," said the state's attorney, "then in the eyes of the law, the whole of these men rented the cottage."

Judge Longenecker then explained that a separate trial could avail the defendant nothing, and would only make the trials consume a much longer time and would cost the country to much unnecessary expense. He then read a number of decisions bearing on the case, and after reviewing the argument by the counsel for the defense declared that nothing had been shown to entitle any of the defendants to a separate trial, on the ground of prejudice for the same evidence would be admissible on a separate trial as on a joint trial.

Mr. Forrest, replying to the state's attorney, argued that it would be impossible to prevent evidence against one being prejudiced against another, and even though a judge instructed a jury that such was inadmissible against de-

that would endanger such defendant's case. Then Mr. Forrest added he knew of no reason why Coughlin and Sullivan could not be tried jointly, but claimed that Burke's flight and Woodruff's alleged confession had prejudiced their case, and that a jury ought not to be allowed to draw any inference from it to the injury of Coughlin and Sullivan.

At the conclusion of Mr. Forrest's remarks Judge McConnell said he would pass on the motion to-day.

The matter of Kunze's motion was laid over until some future time. The prisoners were remanded, and court adjourned after a few hours' session.

THURSDAY, AUG. 20, 1880.

The labor organizations of Indianapolis refused an invitation to turn out and welcome President Harrison back to his old home on his late visit. Straws show which way the current is drifting.

There is a movement on foot to organize a non-vote-buying league. The idea is to bind together enough men to hold the balance of power, who will hold themselves ready to vote against any candidate who spends money to be elected. This is not to be retroactive, but goes for all future contests.—Carlisle Mercury.

Undoubtedly such a league could make itself a terror to corrupt candidates, and would serve to check an evil that is becoming worse each day.

A few days ago Commissioner Tanner boasted that the pension roll cost the Government $90,000,000 last year, and it is going to cost the Government more next year." It will not be Tanner's fault, if it doesn't. Every bar to the treasury vaults is being torn down, and the raid continues. Even "dishonorably discharged" soldiers have as much right to pensions, under a recent ruling of Assistant Bussey, as the truest and bravest of the veterans.

The Democratic majority on joint ballot in the General Assembly of Kentucky will be ninety-six. We recall that the Republican press of the country only three weeks ago was apparently confident that Kentucky would go Republican, but there seems to have been a hitch somewhere.—Frankfort Capital.

The Republican press is just now carrying Virgina like it did Kentucky before the votes were cast. Wouldn't surprise us to see Mahone the worst-beaten man who ever ran for Governor of the Old Dominion State.

The Treasury surplus is given at $70,- 800,000, the highest point reached since last October. Adding the fractional silver, which is really an asset, if not "available," the surplus is nearly $100,000,000.

In General Harrison's campaign speeches last year he pooh-poohed the surplus question as one of no importance. All the Government had to do, he said, to prevent an accumulation of money embarrassing to business, was to buy bonds.

Why doesn't Secretary Windom buy them. Is he saving the surplus for Congress to squander?—New York World.

KENTUCKY Democrats are greatly concerned about Colonel Dudley. They should turn their attention to Colonel Tate, who robbed the State Treasury of Kentucky of three or four hundred thousand dollars, and is now residing abroad. Colonel Dudley has been guilty of no misdemeanor other than using his best efforts as one of the members of the National Republican Committee to put an end to Democratic corruption at the polls.—Portsmouth Blade.

No doubt, Dudley is an angelic sort of person and would never think of attempting to bribe a voter. But why hasn't he set foot in his home State since the campaign last fall? Don't you know, Mr. Bladie, that he has given Indiana a wide berth ever since his infamous "blocks-of-five" letter was made public? And then you talk of his putting an end to "Democratic corruption at the polls."

THERE are forty-three Presidential postoffices in this State, and of these only nine are now filled by Republicans. A special from Washington City says: "The other thirty-four still have Democratic postmasters at their head. It is the settled policy of the Administration to make no changes in the Presidential offices until the expiration of the incumbent's commission, unless there are charges of a sufficiently urgent nature brought against the postmaster in charge. In the majority of cases, therefore, the Kentucky postmasters will be permitted to serve out their four years' term." According to the same special, Postmaster Resps' term began June 21, 1885. The term, however, commenced with the date of his commission which was not issued till the appointment was confirmed.

THERE are many Northern papers that seem to take delight in misrepresenting the South. The Philadelphia Press is one of the number. In a late issue it said:

Georgia is making vigorous efforts this year to raise enough corn to supply her needs, something she has never yet succeeded in doing. Her chief difficulty heretofore has been that she has converted too much of her corn into moonshine whisky, and too little into griddle cakes and pone.

Relying to this the Manufacturers'

Record of Baltimore says that "Georgia raised last year 28,069,000 bushels of corn, or an average of 10.8 bushels per capita,

based on her population at the last census, while Pennsylvania raised 45,414,000 bushels, or 10.6 bushels per capita. In other words, in proportion to population,

Georgia raised more corn than Pennsylvania.

Georgia had at the time of the census $106,000 invested in the manufacture of liquors of all kinds, while Pennsylvania had $14,270,000. Pennsylvania does not raise enough corn to supply its own wants."

If the Press is like the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette it will never make any correction of the misrepresentation.

Ohio Democrats.

The Ohio Democrats did a good day's work yesterday. The platform is brief, to the point, and has the right ring to it, and the ticket is all right.

They approve the tariff plank of the National platform last year and declare they will continue the battle for tariff reform until the cause of the people is triumphant. They speak in unmistakable terms as regards trusts, asserting that these organizations in whatever form are "the legitimate result of our present tariff system."

A demand is made for the repeal of all tariff laws that enable these trusts "to extort from the people exorbitant prices for the products they control." But the plank upon which the battle will be fought is that demanding "home rule for Ohio," and denouncing "the repeated enactment of laws vesting the appointing power in the Governor, enabling him to control the local boards of our leading cities."

The Democrats of Ohio ought to win this year and we hope they will.

With the factional fight in the Republican ranks there is reason to believe that Foraker will be downed.

The Democrats of Harrison are in the midst of a hot fight over the county offices. There are now announced three candidates for Coroner, three for Jailer, two for Sheriff and three for Assessor, all of whom are said to be popular gentlemen, and are doing some lively hustling among the voters.

County Court Doings.

Squires Ball and Grigsby and W. C. Pelham, civil engineer, reported the completion of sixty-one one-hundredths of a mile of the Absalom Creek turnpike, and an order was drawn on the County Treasurer for the county's subscription.

The last will of Margaret V. Wolford was filed, proved and admitted to record.

"Betsey and I Are Out."

Robinson had a servant girl named Betsey. She was going to a dance one evening and Robinson on his way home happened to meet her going thither.

"Where are you going, Betsey," he inquired.

"I am going to a dance, sir."

"Where does the dancing take place?"

"At the town hall, sir."

"Well, you are going a long way round about to reach it. See: If you go through this little street here you will be right at it."

"Oh! thank you, sir; why, you have saved me quite a walk."

As Robinson pursued his way home he so-called thus:

"I feel as if I had just been reciting one of Will Carleton's poems. And why? Because I have given Betsey a higher route."—Boston Courier.

A Comprehensive Question.

The Jews are fond of telling stories on themselves, and, by unanimous consent, the second hand clothesman can be saddled with the responsibility for any points on the race. But one of the most comprehensive questions I ever heard was put by one of those second-hand fellows to another after he had just succeeded in selling him an old coat for new.

"Say, Isidore, vero does the Christian get all the money we take away from them?"—San Francisco Chronicle.

Somebody tells of early San Francisco days: "At one time a woman could hardly walk through the streets of San Francisco without having every one pause to gaze on her, and a child was so rare that once in a theatre, in the same city, where a woman had taken her infant, when it began to cry, just as the orchestra began to play, a man in the pit cried out: 'Stop those fiddles and let the baby cry. I haven't heard such a sound for ten years.' The audience applauded this sentiment, the orchestra stopped and the little youngster continued its performance amid unbounded enthusiasm."

Off For The East.

To give a conception of the immense trade the Odd Fellows' Hall Clothing House has done this early in the season, it need only be told that Mr. D. Hechinger starts East next Saturday night on the F. F. V.; this being already the second trip this season. During the week of the fair Hechinger & Co. had not only a big retail trade but sold such quantities of goods to merchants that necessitates Mr. H.'s making his second trip to the Eastern markets so early. It will be a very opportune time now to buy goods. Most all merchants have laid in their fall and winter supply and manufacturers are very anxious to close out what they have left, particularly to cash customers. The volume of business H. & Co. enjoy will enable Mr. H., to buy at such prices that the people of Maysville and surrounding country can look for great bargains on his return from the Eastern market.

That Paint Factory.

An enterprise of the above character was mentioned some days ago, and the work of interesting some of Maysville's citizens in the move, we are told, is still in progress. The object is the manufacture of paints of all colors, ready for the brush. One of the projectors, in reply to an inquiry, said: "A mineral substance has been found in Eastern Kentucky that has proved to be the red and brown metallic base. Besides, there is some splendid-looking yellow and cream colored ochre out of which an infinite variety of colors can be produced by the mixing process. There is no reason why a paint factory here in Maysville would not pay as well as anywhere else, and especially so since we have the material near at hand, of sufficient quantity and of the very same quality now being sold by all druggists and used by all paint men on the roofs of our buildings. This is a practical project and if some of our capitalists will lend a helping hand we can soon have a profitable enterprise on foot."

Stock, Field and Farm.

The Anderson News says: "The farmers and tobacco raisers are busy cutting and scaffolding their crops. They report the finest crop ever seen in this section."

Joe Miller received word from Chicago Monday that the Vienna Congress on investigating the supply of cereals throughout the world, had announced that the wheat crop was 231,000,000 bushels short of last year. The result was quite a boom to the market.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Official reports show that Austria and Hungary crops are most unfavorable for any for the past ten years. The total of Hungarian wheat is only 111,000,000 bushels, being 28 per cent. below the ordinary medium harvest. Rye yield was 45,000,000 bushels, or 41 per cent. below the medium. Barley 47,000,000 bushels, being a deficiency of 47 per cent. Oats 57,000,000 bushels, a deficiency of 44 per cent. In Austria the yield is 47,000,000 bushels a deficiency of 17 per cent. Rye 78,000,000 bushels, a deficiency of 14 per cent. Barley 52,000,000 bushels, a deficiency of 21 per cent. and oats 102,000,000, a deficiency of 14 per cent. Austria and Hungary are hardly able to export any cereals this year.

The road was built, the subscription paid, but Colonel Young has failed to keep his promise, it seems, from a dispatch which says he was hung in effigy the other night by some of the young men and boys of the town.

It is said that two men with this machine can cut and put up 250 shocks of corn per day. It cuts two rows and after enough has been cut to make a shock, a lever is touched by the driver and the result is a nice erect shock of corn is left standing."

The Money Market.

It is Reported in a Healthy Condition.

BONDS BOUGHT AT ANY PRICE.

The United States Treasurer is likely to pay a smaller price than a larger one for Government Bonds—Yellow Fever Coming—Other Dispatches from Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—“A lower rather than a higher price is likely to be paid for United States government bonds within the next few days,” said Acting Secretary of the Treasury Batcheller to a United Press reporter.

“The offers received by the treasury department are from the leading banks and bankers of the country, many of whom represent foreign capitalists.

“These bankers are not in need of money and the prices at which the bonds are offered, therefore indicate a healthy tone in the money market. The treasury department is receiving as many bonds at its own price as is now convenient to purchase, and if the larger offerings continue in the next week as they have in the past three or four days, it may be that the treasury bonds will be lowered.”

Within the past three days the treasury department has purchased $10,840,000 worth of bonds, for which it paid with the premium nearly $15,000,000. The surplus to-day is about $42,000,000; ten days ago it was $70,000,000. The decrease in the past ten days has been nearly $28,000,000.

The bond purchases yesterday were $3,821,100 of four's at 128, and $67,000 four-and-a-halfs at 106 1/2.

Extent of the Boston' Injuries.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Capt. Beardoe, president of the board of survey of the United States steamship Boston, in an official report to the navy department, states that the injuries to the Boston by the recent accident are slight. In all eight frames are injured, and four plates will have to be replaced. The estimated cost of the material to be used in the repair of the Boston is stated at $600, and the work $3,400, in all $6,000.

Yellow Fever Coming.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The department of state has been advised by a telegram from the consul of the United States at Colon, that the steamer Adriandack has left that port for the United States with yellow fever on board. The consul, in his telegram, does not state the port to which the vessel is destined.

Offered Him Another Position.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Maj. Frank Strong's resignation as general agent of the department of justice takes effect on the 1st of September, and D. E. Foster, of Iowa, has been selected to take his place. Attorney General Miller has offered Maj. Strong a position of examiner in the department of justice.

Of Interest to Applicants.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—George C. Tichenor, assistant secretary of the treasury, A. K. Tingle, supervising special agent and Theodore L. Delaud, have been appointed a board of examiners in the treasury department for the examination of applicants for appointment as special agents.

Weather Indications.

Fair, warmer weather in northeast; stationary temperature in southeast portion; southerly winds.

HIDDEN TREASURES.

A Workman Digs Up a Pot of Spanish Coins Bearing Very Old Dates.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 29.—A St. Augustine special to The Times-Union says there is great excitement there over the discovery of hidden Spanish treasure in an old house, on the corner of Bridge and Marine streets, which is being torn down to make room for improvements. A negro employee, in digging near the foundation of the chimney, dug up a metallic pot containing fifty-two Spanish coins. The latest date on the coins is 1806, and several of them antedate 1760.

The house and lot are the property of an American lady of wealth, who some years ago married one of the nobility of Europe. So great was the excitement about the building that it was necessary to call upon the police to keep back the crowd, and last night the place was fenced in and securely guarded. Further operations are anxiously awaited.

Colorado Gulch on Fire.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 29.—Colorado gulch, which extends into Helena and which is heavily timbered, is on fire twelve miles from here and the flames are progressing in this direction. The sawmills and wood camps of Sturrock & Brown and J. Spence were burned Tuesday and the men forced to flee for their lives. Several narrow escapes are recorded. Their hair, beards, and clothes were burned. Quite an open space lies between the head of the gulch and the timber nearest Helena, and it is thought the fire cannot traverse that space.

A Wrecking Copper Mine Sold.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 29.—The Michigan copper code, one of the best mines in the Rawhide district, 100 miles north of this place, was sold Tuesday to the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing company, of Pittsburgh, for $25,000. Ore will be hauled to the company's eastern works for treatment.

A Block in Oakland Burned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—The block bounded by Twelfth and Thirteenth, Webster and Harrison streets, in Oakland, burned yesterday. The Dietz opera house caught fire, but was saved. Loss, about $10,000.

OHIO DEMOCRATS.

The State Convention Nominates a Ticket Headed by James E. Campbell.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 29.—The state Democratic convention was called to order by Dr. Norton, the chairman of the state central committee, and after prayer by Rev. Dr. McFarlin, Dr. Norton made a brief address outlining the purposes of the convention. He made his speech the vehicle for a caustic criticism of the Republican party and especially of Governor Foraker, the candidate of that party for re-election. This was followed by a eulogy of the Democratic party and its principles. His allusion to Grover Cleveland and the noblest and greatest of living Democrats, was marked by long continued applause.

The committee on credentials reported no contest. The report was adopted.

The Hon. M. D. Harter, of Richland county, was named for permanent president; Lewis G. Bernard, of Hamilton county, for secretary, and Peter Weider, of Montgomery, for sergeant-at-arms.

They were duly elected along with a vice president and assistant secretary for each congressional district. Mr. Harter, on taking the chair, made an extremely long address, covering all points at issue between the two great parties.

After adopting the report of the committee on rules and order of business and the announcement of the state central committee, the Hon. John A. McMahon made the report of the committee on resolutions, prefacing it with the statement that it was not a compromise, but was unanimously adopted, and that the committee was fully agreed that there should be no backward step in the matter of tariff reform.

The platform was adopted with unanimity and applause.

James E. Campbell, of Hamilton; ex-Congressman Lawrence T. Neal, of Chillicothe, and Hon. Virgil P. Kline, of Cleveland, were each placed before the convention for governor. The first vote resulted as follows: Whole number of votes, 789; Kline, 109; Neal, 292; Campbell, 388. No choice and the second ballot followed: Whole number of votes, 789; Kline, 93; Neal, 299; Campbell, 397.

The remainder of the state ticket was completed as follows:

For lieutenant governor, William N. Marquis, of Bellefontaine.

For Judge of supreme court, Martin D. Follett, of Marietta.

For state treasurer, W. E. Boden, of Guernsey county.

For school commissioner, Charles C. Miller, of Putnam county.

For attorney general, Jesse M. Lewis, of Urbana.

For member board of public works, Frank Reynolds, of Cincinnati.

For clerk of supreme court, L. J. C. Shumaker, of Titus.

The convention then adjourned sine die.

John Ward's Wife Withdraws.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Short-stop John M. Ward has made such vigorous protest against his wife, Helen Daupray, returning to the stage that she has canceled her engagement with Harry Miner.

Montana Democrats.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 29.—The Democratic state convention is in session at Anaconda. J. K. Toole, of Helena, was nominated for governor; H. Conrad, of Billings, for lieutenant governor, and Martin Maginnis for congress.

The stock market this morning opened with more animation than on any day for a long time. Rock Island, Atchison, Burlington and Quincy, Northern Pacific preferred, St. Paul and a few others monopolized the business done, however, while the general list was dull and uninteresting as usual. The dealings in the stock market were enlivened after 1 o'clock by a sharp upward movement in Lackawanna, accompanied by considerable animation in that stock, and its price was carried up to 14 1/2. The rest of the list failed to respond and dullness became the leading feature again.

On Saturday last, H. C. Payne, of Wisconsin, had a long interview with the president. He reported, it is said, his observations while traveling through the territories out of which four new states are to be created.

It is said that Gen. Goff, of West Virginia, made a similar report to the president after his return from his trip through the territories.

Gen. Clarkson will go to Indiana after he finishes up the work which brought him here.
